Demo landslide looms in election tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Democratic landslide appeared imminent today on the eve of the first election to feel the full brunt of Watergate and a staggering economy.

The final pre-election survey by The Associated Press shows Democrats have a shot at two-thirds control of both houses of Congress and a record number of governorships.

Confident Democratic leaders predicted Sunday their party would carry a virtual sweep of Tuesday's elections, while Republicans talked about holding down their losses.

The balloting for 35 governorships, 34 Senate seats and all 435 House posts will be the first since Richard M. Nixon resigned as president and was pardoned by his chosen successor, Gerald R. Ford.

The election also comes amid mounting inflation and unemployment and national debate over what to do about both. Ford has campaigned for GOP candidates saying he needs a Congress he can work with to cure the economy, while Democrats have called for the congressional strength to put through their own solutions.

Ironically, the anticipated Democratic romp comes just two years after Nixon had won for the Republicans one of history's two biggest presidential landslides. But it was reminiscent of 1966 when Republicans turned the same trick after their presidential disaster in the Barry Goldwater campaign of 1964.

Although Republicans contended that their embattled candidates were closing gaps across the country, the latest available information showed Democrats still ahead in most of the key races.

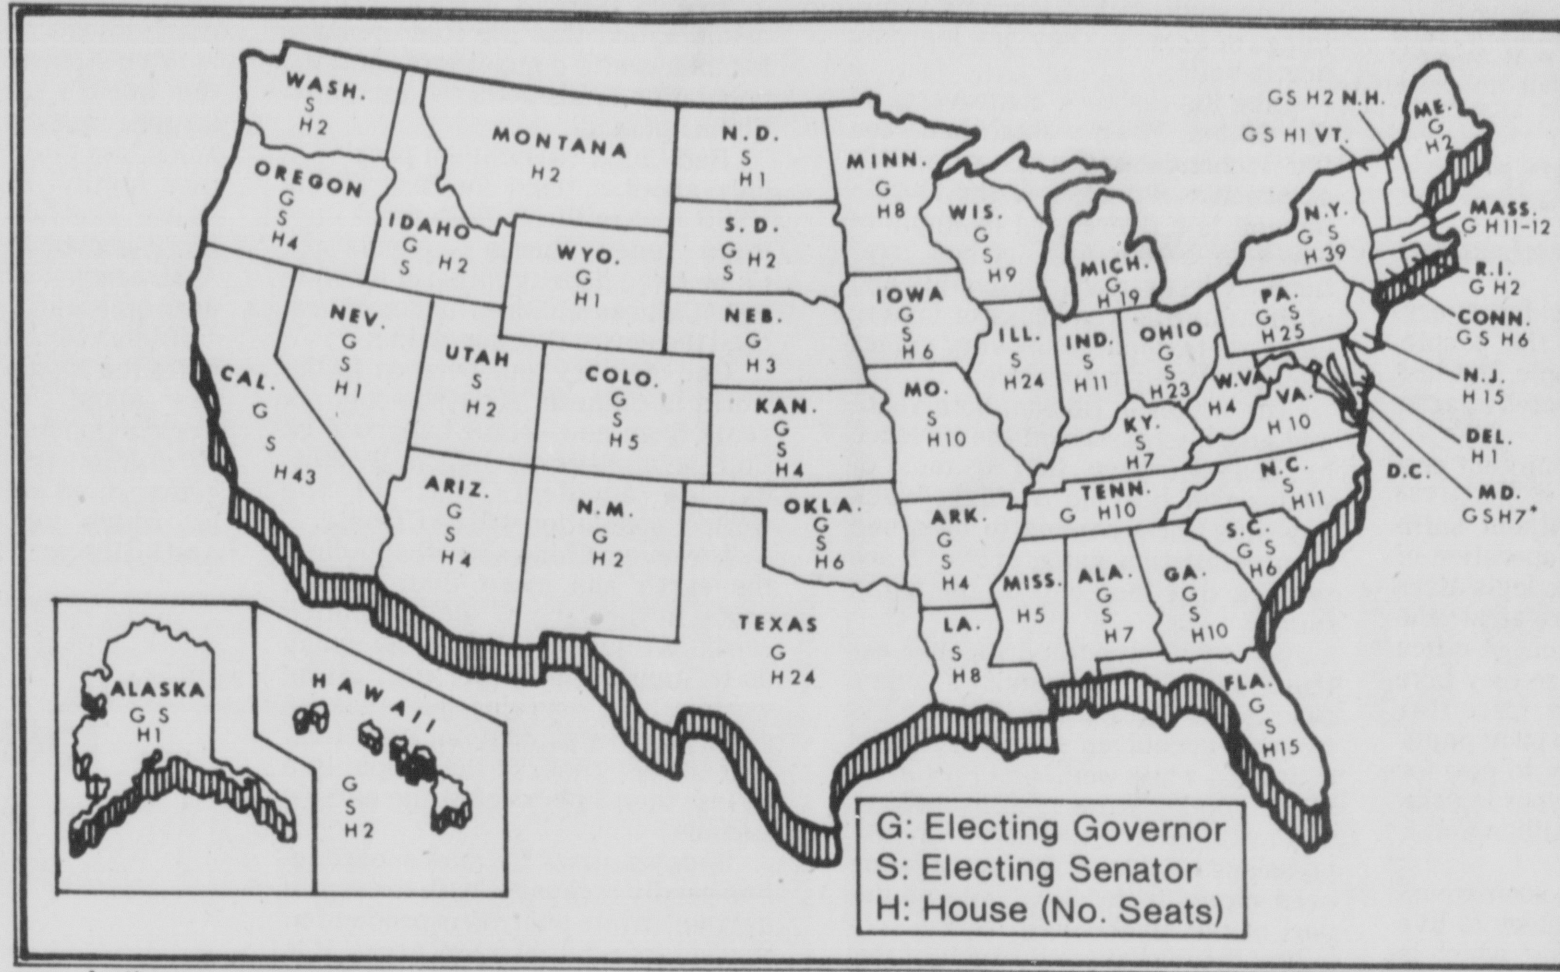

The AP survey, based on reports from bureaus in all 50 states, late polls and interviews with political strategists for the major parties and candidates gives this picture:

Senate — The Democrats likely to gain from 5 to 7 of the 14 GOP seats at stake and with a good chance to hold all 20 of their own. This could mean 63 to 65 Democrats in the new Senate, compared to the 58-42 margin they already hold.

House — The Democratic gain could be as high as 50 seats and probably no less than 30 if present trends hold. They now hold a 248-187 edge and could approach the massive 295-140 majority they achieved in Lyndon B. Johnson's 1964 landslide.

Governors — The Democrats hold the record for most governorships in the hands of one party — 39 in 1939. Already holding 32 of the 50 statehouses, they now appear likely to gain from 7 to as many as 10.

The party out of the White House normally gains in off-year elections — an average 4 senators and 26 House members in the last five.

"Our mission is to keep it under the average losses," Rep. Robert Michel, R-Ill., chairman of the House Republican Campaign Committee, said on ABC's "Issues and Answers" show Sunday.

"Frankly, I would like to keep it in the range of 20 to 25" House seats, Michel said, the number of GOP congressmen he concedes are in deep trouble.

Sen. Bill Brock, R-Tenn., chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee in the Senate, said losing 4 or 5 Senate seats would be normal in the off-year following a presidential landslide like Nixon's but predicted "we'll do better than that."

But that was as close as any Republican leaders — including President Ford — would come to putting numbers on their expected fate Tuesday. When asked for his prediction, Ford brushed aside the question with "not on Sunday."

On another television panel show, GOP party chairman Mary Louise Smith also ducked

Ford makes plea for heavy election turnout

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, warning that a low turnout in Tuesday's election could bring minority rule, urged Americans on Monday to go to the polls and "send a message to Washington and the world."

"You will not just be voting for Democrats or Republicans," Ford said in a statement read to reporters and a bank of television cameras in the White House Rose Garden. "You will be casting your vote of confidence in the United States of America."

Ford did not specifically endorse Republican candidates in his pre-election statement. He stressed instead the need for voter turnout.

He said some surveys indicate a turnout of only 40 per cent of the voter population.

"If this is true, the Congress with which I must work here in Washington to control inflation, strengthen the economy and preserve peace in the world, could be elected by only 21 per cent of the voters," the President said. "I don't think anyone wants that kind of minority rule."

First Lady Betty Ford stood at the President's side as he read the statement.

Afterward, the President said — "We both voted. I hope they're counted," he said of their absentee ballots, adding — "It might be important."

Ford, in speaking, departed slightly from his prepared text, using the words "minority decision" rather than "minority rule" in urging voters to turn out on Tuesday.

"Every eligible voter will send a message to Washington and to the world tomorrow," Ford said.

Those who cast their ballots, "whether they vote for Republican or Democratic candidates or for others will be voting 'yes' for our American tradition of government by the people and for the people," he said.

"Everyone who can get to the polls and fails to go, who refuses to exercise the precious right of a free citizen to vote his or her honest conviction is actually voting 'no' on our system of self-government," Ford said.

Hunt to be recalled in Watergate trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prosecutors in the Watergate cover-up trial said today they will recall Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt to the witness stand because they have discovered that a memo he wrote five months after the Watergate break-in still exists.

The revelation prompted one defense attorney to move for an immediate mistrial. Another declared, "I have now a cover-up within a cover-up."

Asst. Special Prosecutor James F. Neal said existence of the memo, dated Nov. 14, 1972, was revealed to him over the weekend by William O. Bittman, who was once Hunt's lawyer.

Bittman was named an unindicted co-conspirator in the Watergate cover-up by the same grand jury that indicted the five defendants in the cover-up trial.

Hunt had testified that he and his wife had written a memo detailing the background of the Watergate break-in, including the involvement of White House officials, at a time when only seven lower-level men had been indicted and were to stand trial for the crime.

Hunt quoted Bittman as saying he read the memo to defendant Kenneth W. Parkinson, an allegation denied by both Bittman and Parkinson.

Neal said that, until this weekend, Bittman also had denied in grand jury testimony and meetings with the prosecutors knowing that Hunt's memo ever existed.

Parkinson's lawyer, Jacob Stein, said he is now faced with challenging the credibility of Bittman and Hunt, both of whom have now admitted lying to the grand jury.

Stein asked for a separate trial for his client, describing Bittman's role as a "cover-up with a cover-up."

John J. Wilson, defense attorney for former White House chief of staff H. R. Haldeman, asked for a mistrial. His request was rejected by U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica.

Before the decision to recall Hunt, the prosecutors had indicated they were nearly finished with the testimony of major witnesses and would soon play recorded evidence they say is among the most damning to be put before the jury.

Watergate prosecutors say they plan to play more than 20 presidential tapes, on which are heard only the voices of Richard M. Nixon and one or more of three of the defendants.

However, some legal preliminaries must be cleared up. The first of the tapes may be heard by the end of the week.

The disclosure that Hunt's memo still exists, and the resulting legal arguments, delayed Jeb Stuart Magruder's scheduled last day of cross-examination by the defense.

The attorneys for former White House domestic affairs chief John D. Ehrlichman asked no questions of the articulate and forceful Magruder, who frequently stole the courtroom spotlight away from defense lawyers. Magruder is serving a 10-month to four-year prison term.

Magruder was to be followed by his former administrative assistant at the re-election committee, Robert Reisner. He is the only witness so far who has not been indicted or served a jail term for a part in either the original Watergate burglary or the cover-up.

Late rush of big campaign money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Last minute reports of large campaign contributions piled up today in government offices but many were kept from public view by bureaucratic delays.

Those reports that were available showed a pattern of 11th-hour borrowing by candidates and political committees and last minute donations by big labor unions and political parties.

Rep. Wane Owens, D-Utah, running for the Senate, reported today that he had borrowed $10,000 from the Continental State Bank in Salt Lake. Earlier he had reported donations of $5,000 and $6,000 from the AFL-CIO and another $5,000 from the steelworkers.

The Kansas Democratic state committee borrowed $20,000 from a bank in Topeka. Republican Senate candidate Ralph J. Perk of Ohio reported donations totalling $10,000 from two Republican party committees.

A score of other last minute reports, probably more, were backed up at the office of the clerk of the House but were unavailable for public viewing because of delays in processing and microfilming.

Other reports, however, were available through the secretary of the Senate, where less red tape is involved.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., reported getting a last-minute donation of $5,000 from the AFL-CIO's political arm, and another $5,000 from the Machinists' Union.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-

Ariz., reported a $10,000 donation from the Republican Campaign Committee, and Richard Lugar, Republican candidate for the Senate from Indiana, reported $5,000 from the National Republican Senatorial Committee. Lugar also received $5,000 from an Indianapolis law firm.

Lugar's opponent, Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., reported $5,000 from the AFL-CIO.

Telegrams continued to pour into the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House today, telling of fresh donations of $5,000 and more. Anything smaller won't have to be reported officially until next Jan. 31, the deadline for filing year-end campaign spending reports.

Weekend analyses of the most recent batch of comprehensive reports showed that the AFL-CIO spent $297,861 in the 10-day period, more than any other special interest group. The AFL-CIO reported total spending of $1.7 million through Oct. 24, also the most for any political group.

'Israel, Arabs must move closer, says Kissinger

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today Israel and the Arabs must "make an effort to bring their positions closer to each other."

Kissinger, who begins another Middle East peacekeeping swing Tuesday, told newsmen the purpose of the trip is "to see whether useful negotiations can be conducted and in what manner."

With Yugoslav President Tito at his side, Kissinger said the United States "will do its utmost to move matters in the Middle East to a just and lasting peace."

Kissinger conferred with Tito for 1½ hours in the Yugoslav leader's White Palace, an imposing mansion that once belonged to Prince Paul, pretender to the throne.

They made brief statements to newsmen afterwards and took no questions.

Tito, a steadfast supporter of the Arabs in their push for Israel to relinquish territory, said both he and Kissinger expressed concern "because of the stagnation that is there.

Much depends on the United States which so far has had a main influence."

Kissinger said, "The United States would like to do its best to prevent a stalemate from developing. This requires that all the parties on both sides understand the special necessities of the other and make an effort to bring their position closer to each other. It is for this purpose that I am going to the Middle East."

After his Middle East peace swing, Kissinger goes to Turkey for talks on the Cyprus dispute.

The Turks are angry about the bill adopted by the U.S. Congress last month to cut off aid to them unless there is progress toward a settlement on Cyprus. Kissinger wants to ease the Turkish government's concern and insure Turkey's continued cooperation in Eastern Mediterranean affairs.

American officials stressed that the trip, Kissinger's eighth through the Middle East since the October 1973 war, was not intended to produce any agreements.

Coroner's jury rules Spotts death suicide

A Lee County Coroner's Jury today ruled the death of Felchner Spotts Jr. as suicidal. Spotts, 41, 719 Jay Dee Ave., was killed when he was struck by a Chicago Northwestern freight train shortly before noon on Oct. 27.

Investigation at that time indicated the fall may have been accidental, however, a 12-year-old girl, testifying at this morning's inquest, said she called to Spotts to get off the tracks and he ignored the warning.

The Dixon girl, Lisa Wake-night, said she was riding a horse near the tracks when she spotted the man and the approaching train.

Ennis Reed, a brakeman on the train, testified he saw a man waving his hands in the air and attempted to stop the train in time. Reed said the train was rounding a curve moments before he spotted the man about one block east of the Lincoln Avenue viaduct.

A police investigation turned up a full can of beer near Spotts' body. It was believed to be the beer can that the victim was waving in the air moments before the incident. Miss Wake-night said the man turned just before the train hit him and was thrown into the air.

Answer to Anderson

Rep. John B. Anderson says the hearings on Nelson Rockefeller are used to embarrass Rockefeller and the Republican Party. I should think so, for why did President Gerald Ford nominate a socialist for vice president of the United States?

Years ago I heard Nelson Rockefeller say, "I guess I am a socialist." From his actions as governor of New York, who increased the debt of New York state about 400 per cent, we know he is socialistically inclined.

Anderson says a man should not be punished because he is rich. That is right, but Anderson did not tell the many ways Rockefeller's money has harmed the people of the United States.

When John B. Anderson first went to Washington he was a good speaker, now he is a smooth talker, so check his orations with his voting record in Congress and see what he helped to do with your savings.

When the Senate voted in 1973 to allow the people to have gold, Anderson voted NO and the people were not permitted to have gold, which would help to curb inflation.

Anderson is proud of the fact that he helped to promote OSHA and EPA and many other agencies that help to create more inflation.

Anderson is proud of social security because without it many senior citizens would be in dire straits. Well, of course, they are in dire straits because the Congress has created such a tremendous inflation the senior citizen's savings will buy very little.

These sidetracking politicians try to blame inflation on to everybody except themselves, who are the ones who created it.

If Congress had passed a law to put your money in a savings bank and keep the government from handling it you would be far better off than with the scheme that Congress created, Social Security.

Every so often we learn of some new scheme the politicians use to gain more of your savings.

Commenting on his opponent, Dr. John Schade, Anderson claims Schade has no program and is negative about everything.

Anderson said Schade was against OSHA and EPA. Well, good for Schade, for these agencies are bankrupting many small businessmen. If Anderson could read Dr. John Schade's pamphlets he would find there is a real American running against him.

Anderson says he is for everything that really helps the people. Gold would help the people, but last year John B. Anderson voted against gold.

There is only one group that creates inflation and that is Congress when it passes laws without sufficient tax to pay for the operation of the law. The reason your legislators do this is because they are afraid the voters would kick them out of office if they included the tax, so they take the secretive way and force the Treasury Department to print paper dollars or borrow money to pay for the expensive law, thus your legislators have built up a 500 billion dollar debt.

The working people soon found out they needed more money to live on, so demanded more pay, which is the result of inflation.

Anderson said, "When the editor of the Dixon Telegraph says I vote socialistic he is wrong, for I have supported President Richard Nixon."

Well, Nixon tried to get many socialistic laws passed which did increase your national debt. In fact, Nixon was the most wasteful spender this country ever had, and Anderson is proud he backed him.

Anderson believes in Federal Revenue Sharing. Congressmen, governors and mayors are for Federal Revenue Sharing, but the people know for every dollar they get from the federal government it costs the taxpayer $1.53. The voters certainly do not appreciate that. It makes each governor, mayor and city council spend unnecessary money.

Anderson concludes, "The publisher has his right to his editorial opinion." I wonder how long that will last, for Rep. John B. Anderson is a member of the Council of Foreign Relations. They want a one-world government. The man who Anderson claims he backed, Richard Nixon, appointed over 100 members of the Council on Foreign Relations to high public offices in the United States government.

Nelson Rockefeller and three other relatives are members of the Council of Foreign Relations and these men are too dangerous to be Vice President or President of the United States.

Lucky to be working

By ROGER BOLTON

MARION, Ohio (NEA)— This city in Southern Ohio may be the only place in the country where the memory of Warren G. Harding is revered. The President whose name was besmirched by the nation's last great scandal, Teapot Dome, was a home town boy. The large monument where Harding and his wife are interred and the house on Mount Vernon Avenue where he conducted his famous "front porch campaign" are proud local landmarks.

Richard Nixon has no such ties to this community (save John Dean's brief attendance at Harding High School), but there's plenty of sentiment left here for the former President among the Republican majority.

"I'm not saying he was right in what he did," one Republican said, "but when you think about it, it wasn't all that bad." However, this generous view of Nixon's role in Watergate doesn't mean Marion voters have been untouched by the scandal's effects.

One thing it has done is increase political awareness. The man who runs the local Board of Elections, Ray Denzer, predicts a large turnout. Denzer talks to a lot of voters, but he can't put his finger on any Watergate-inspired trend against incumbents or Republicans. Many voters are fed up with recent events, Denzer said, but the object of their anger is as often the Democrats as it is the Republicans.

Watergate has caused Marion voters to be wary of all politicians. Ron English, a juvenile probation officer, thinks voters will be asking themselves hard questions about their candidates. "They wonder, 'Is this guy what he says he is? Just because he says he's honest, can you trust him?'"

Far more pressing to the voters who feel Watergate is a dead issue, is the economy. Things are not as bad in Marion as they might be because of the booming expansion of the area's largest industry. The demand for Marion Power Shovel Company's huge coal mining machines has soared with the energy crisis. And a 20 per cent slice in natural gas allocations to major industries has not brought the unemployment many feared.

But paycheck-crippling inflation is resented deeply. "We're lucky to be working," one Marionite said, "but we have to make adjustments so my wife can buy the same amount of flour and sugar."

Farmers here are closely watching national policies on grain exports and they are worried about the prices they'll be paying for next year's fertilizer or a new tractor.

"Farmers are listening for views toward the farm community," the local Farm Bureau president said. "They're becoming more interested and looking at individual candidates."

At Chamber of Commerce meetings here, businessmen have responded well to candidates who have recognized their need for investment capital.

Combining these issue-oriented concerns with the awareness and wariness caused by Watergate may bring more ticket-splitting and less party loyalty.

The two big races in Ohio this year are for governor and U.S. senator. It wouldn't be surprising to see Marion voters go for former Republican Governor James Rhodes over Democratic Governor John Gilligan while opting in the Senate race for Democrat John Glenn, the former astronaut running against Cleveland's Republican mayor, Ralph Perk.

This industrial town of nearly 40,000 in a rural county has been a Republican haven for years. But in turbulent 1974, any candidate who can pass the voter's honesty test and respond to his economic concerns is going to get the vote.

Learning to hate

By DON OAKLEY

If any students in those Boston high schools racked by weeks of racial strife learn anything this year, it will be a miracle. Ironically, and tragically, the court-ordered busing plan designed to give blacks a better educational opportunity has so far resulted in the denial of a decent educational environment to children of both races.

The students are learning something, of course. They are learning how to hate.

Like the textbook controversy in Charleston, W. Va., which has seen the firebombing of a school among other acts of violence, the Boston turmoil is a distressing example of how fear breeds fear, of how irrationality feeds upon irrationality and of the amazing readiness of human beings to trample on the very values they are trying to preserve.

The whites in Boston, both youth and adult, who started the violence by demonstrating that a mob of whites can beat up a single black any time, have nothing to be proud of. In retaliation, gangs of blacks are proving that they can do the same thing.

It may be wondered to what extent the white community's angry reaction to integration is traceable to such events as the immolation death of a white woman in Boston by black youths some months before, and to the utter absence of any expressions of shock or outrage or even sympathy for the victim on the part of the black community.

But then, what are the roots of the hatred that have turned some of the generation of blacks into vengeful, militant racists?

Both sides believe they are taking their destinies into their own hands. In truth, it is the dead hand of an ugly past that is manipulating each of them like puppets in a script that can only lead to more tragic sequels in the future.

"30" loses to @ UF 25

Since time immemorial, reporters have been putting "30" at the bottom of their stories, a tradition whose origin is lost along with the pastepots and pencil stubs of a bygone day.

Now, reports Editor & Publisher magazine, advancing technology is writing an end to this familiar journalistic symbol for "The End."

The reason is found in the literal-mindedness of the electronic-optical scanners that are taking over the chore of "reading" copy on more and more newspapers and the high-speed, tape-operated photocomposition machines that put "cold" type on film instead of hot metal slugs.

Instead of typing "30," which the machines would transcribe simply as the number 30, writers working with one of the new computerized systems have to use this symbol for the end of a story: @ UF25.

Your typical, hard-boiled reporter, of course, has always expressed himself with the aid of @ — orally, that is, not in print — along with * and #, and sometimes even @*#1, when recording the follies and foibles of mankind. No doubt he will continue to.

Nevertheless, the passing of "30" and its replacement with something as prosaic and businesslike as @ UF25 is one more example of technology's chipping away at the glamor that is supposedly associated with the newspaperman's job.

Red China broke up the World Population Conference in Bucharest. With her relentless emphasis on the Third World, she insisted on larger third world populations as a "condition for the fight against imperialism and hegemonism."

Hegemonism is a trick term of denunciation that the Reds reserve for their world competitors. And the population crisis bothered mainland China not at all.

Red China (800 million people) is only about a third the size of the USSR (250 million). With more than three times Russia's population, China has a density ratio of about 9-to-1. Chinese children under 15 exceed the entire U.S. population.

One of every four persons in the world is Chinese. By 1980—only six years from now—some baby will be Chinese number one billion. By 2000, barring accidents, half of the world's population will be Chinese.

However, China notwithstanding, the earth has more than enough space in the face of the population crisis. We just do not use the space as we must. Eighty per cent of the world's land contains less than 16 per cent of the population. More than half (57 per cent) of the people live on less than 5 per cent of the earth's surface.

Today's news of man's production hardly compares with his reproduction. While enormous production progress is made in many areas, it is being drowned by the Niagara of new babies and an accelerated longevity. For example, the death rate in Amazon River areas is down 40 per cent.

We Americans reached the top of our birth rate in 1947. And mankind as a whole emerges in an incredible phenomenon so recent that the latest upturn did not begin until after World War II.

The average life span of stone age man was 20 years. There were still only about 500 million people in the world at the time of Queen Elizabeth I. Even by the 17th century, Britain had only one city with more than 30,000 population.

The population growth was cumulative with alternating ripples of climb and decline on the gradually tilted line.

Then suddenly, no one knows why, something hit the planet's population curve like a fly ball arching out of the park. The astounding breakup of all previous patterns occurred around 1945.

Today, about one-quarter of all the people who have ever lived on this planet are alive. The human race has doubled its numbers in the past 50 years. At present growth rates, it will double them again in the next 30.

Red China indifferent to population explosion

Today's population of the United States is 211.4 million. The world adds approximately the population of the United States every 3½ years—more than a million a week, five million a month.

Vast Africa (354 million people), the world's largest continent, has largely missed the explosion. It holds less than 9 per cent of the human family. Variations? In Japan, where abortion is legal, there are more abortions than births. But in Arab areas women average six children apiece.

India (563 million) has more than twice the population of the USSR and has about four-sevenths of the world's population. In narrow Japan 107 million people are jammed together in an area the size of Montana, which supports 695,000 people. And by the year 2000, the Philippines will have a larger population than any Western European country.

Egypt (35 million) is the Arab world's most populous nation. It faces an increase of nearly a million a year. South America's population (195 million) increases 6.6 million annually—a new Chicago every year. By 2000, Brazil (100 million) alone will have more people than the United States had during World War II.

We are in a neck-and-neck race between the population growth and hunger. Yet Red China, with an assist from the USSR, broke up the World Population Conference in Bucharest and was as indifferent to all this as to a horse race in Ireland.

These are the very countries that cry so shrilly and constantly about humanity, humanity, humanity. But, behind the scenes, they quietly combined to stymie the desperate hopes and needs of the hunger-stricken world.

How to Vote
We follow this anti-inflation
maxim:

"More business in government; less government in business."

Here's another, as uttered by former newspaper publisher
Frank Gannett:

"In our Republic, the government should fear the people; not the people, the government!"

Our Founding Fathers opposed letting Uncle Sam compete with us taxpayers citizens, both in business, philanthropy and the professions.

He was to be merely the impartial umpire or referee, standing on the sidelines of our "Free Enterprise" playing field.

But he was definitely NOT to rush out upon that field to comnies, farms, retail stores, doctors or editors!

In 1940, our entire federal appropriation (paid for by our taxes) was less than $14 billion.

"Big Brother" bureaucrats now demand $304 billion for the current budget!

Other things being equal,
Mrs. Crane and I follow this plan:

(1) Support candidates who vote to LOWER taxes, instead of raising them via inflationary Boosts in spending to boondog-

ADA groups in the large cities.

Even the 11 per cent jump in votes of those above the age of 65.

For a similar reduction in the federal budget would have let the Senior Citizens have as much purchasing power even with their former monthly So-

And by thus LOWERING tax-

(2) Pick candidates who have had practical experience in operating farms, retail stores, newspapers, doctors' offices and other private businesses where they PAY taxes instead of getting salaries from the taxpayers.

In short, beware of the tax-eaters vs. the taxpayers, for the Post Office vs. the taxpaying
United Parcel Service illustrates this point!

Tax-eaters are those who don't produce goods or services out in the private sector of our economy!

Nora, as a waitress is thus a producer, for she isn't on a county, state or federal payroll!

(3) Favor the younger candidates vs. those lifelong politicians who have already held their jobs 12 years or more!

Some members of Congress have clung to their positions for over 40 years, and thus have dening.

(4) Beware of electing too have been furnishing jobs, meeting payrolls and actually producing new products instead of writing new legislation for the ego inflation of getting their names on such bills.

Politicians then pass these unwise bills to win the present election; then two years later must pass contrary laws, as in the busing-antibusing fiasco, as well as the thoughtless ecology laws that are hampering private employment!

(5) Beware of letting handsome young men with sexual charisma delude you, for if they pass unwise boondoggling bills.

Six freed after Bloomington melee

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — Six persons have been released in connection with a disturbance in which at least two policemen were injured Sunday, officials said.

The six persons were arrested during a march by an estimated 150 demonstrators protesting alleged mistreatment of prisoners by McLean County Sheriff John King. The sheriff reportedly is under federal investigation for abuse of prisoners in the jail.

During the melee some store windows in downtown Bloomington were smashed and demonstrators pelted police officers with a few rocks and bricks.

Some demonstrators also hurled firecrackers at about 75 policemen from Bloomington, Normal and the McLean County sheriff's office.

Several protestors bled from their arms after being hit by police billy clubs, but none required hospital treatment.

Police wore riot gear but were under orders not to use tear gas except as a last resort, officials said.

Charged with obstructing a police officer were Peter Black and Robert Sutherland, both 36 and of Normal; and David Nelson, 25; Harry Delawde Jr., 25; James Thomas, 21, and Robert Reyes, 18, all of Bloomington.

Inflation rates as No. 1 issue at polls, survey shows

NEW YORK (AP) — Voters see inflation as the No. 1 issue in the election Tuesday and will be skeptical of any candidate who hasn't discussed it in terms they can understand, private pollsters say.

"Let's not kid ourselves, in this election there is one overriding problem on people's minds, and that's the economy," Frank Goldsmith of Oliver Quayle & Co. said.

Harry O'Neill of Opinion Research Corp. in Princeton, N.J., also used the word "overriding" to describe worry about inflation, adding, "The situation is similar to the way Vietnam was the big issue several years ago."

Goldsmith, O'Neill and three other pollsters declined to discuss details of the information they have supplied to candidates, but they did describe what their studies show about voter concerns.

Dick Wirthlin of Decision Making Information in Los Angeles and Tully Plesser of Cambridge Opinion Studies in New York emphasized the advantage of discussing inflation in specific terms.

"The electorate needs something it can understand," Wirthlin said. "For example, cut government spending, soak the oil companies, hold the line against defense spending. But this all must be played against the background of what the electorate wants to hear. There seems to be much sympathy toward making sacrifices if the electorate can be assured that these sacrifices will help curb inflation."

Plesser said voters will respond best to a candidate who identifies a cause of inflation "and holds it up as an enemy to be attacked — you need something to clarify the issue for voters, who can't do out the nuances of the problem."

Goldsmith said a candidate would be a "fool if he says he's going to lick the inflation problem. People are too intelligent to believe that. A candidate needs to be honest, to stress areas where he has shown some expertise that could contribute to a solution."

Bob Teeters of Market Opinion Research in Detroit said, "The only clear consensus that seems to be emerging is that a substantial number of voters think restraint in spending is needed."

The Doctor Says:

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband is 56 and appears to be in good health. He is active physically and likes to hunt and fish. He is 5-foot-11 and weighs 175 pounds.

We have always had a good marriage and have two daughters and one son, all grown and away from home. Now all at once he isn't able to have sex anymore. He tries but nothing happens, no response at all. What could be the problem? Do you suppose this means he has been having an affair with another woman? Or, does it mean he doesn't really care for me any more? He is still loving and tries to make it up to me in other ways, but our sex life is non-existent.

I've tried to get him to see a doctor, but he says he feels fine and doesn't want to. What do you think?

DEAR READER — Impotence is a symptom not a diagnosis. Of course, he should see a doctor and find out what the symptom means.

Many men are afraid to see a doctor about any problems related to sexual function. They seem to think this is too great a shame to share with someone else. So they suffer, often needlessly, in silence. So do their wives, many voicing or thinking the thoughts you express.

I can't include all the causes of impotence here, but you can write to me at P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019 and ask for the booklet on impotence.

Impotence is often psychological. It may be related to factors the person is totally unaware of. It often requires professional help to solve these problems. Sometimes the whole thing is related to self-confidence. A failure, even after an evening of too many cocktails, will be over-emphasized and fear of failure takes over. When the man's confidence is restored, sometimes even with a useless medicine he has faith in, his capacity may return as if by magic.

In other instances impotence is an indication of illness. It can be a sign of unrecognized diabetes. In these problems the diabetes affects the nerves to the sexual organs and the normal mechanisms no longer work. Early control of diabetes probably helps to prevent this complication.

There are now techniques, some experimental and others fairly well accepted, where selected patients can have a flexible splint implanted which helps a great deal for impotence from nerve involvement in diabetes or after surgery. They have no place in treatment of impotence from psychological causes.

Impotence can be a symptom of circulation problems to the pelvic area. A careful examination of the circulation may demonstrate the cause. Some types of surgery in selected patients will relieve the problems.

A small number of problems are related to decreased output of male hormone. This usually involves a somewhat older man. Even so, about half of men 75 years or older are still potent, and there are medical records of men well over 100 who have remained completely potent in all respects.

Encourage your husband to see a doctor. He is not at all unusual, and he needs to find out what the problem is.

People in the news

NEW YORK (AP) — Aristotle Onassis has entered New York Hospital for a "routine physical checkup," the hospital says.

The hospital's administrator said Sunday that Onassis, husband of the former Jacqueline Kennedy, was listed in satisfactory condition simply because it was hospital practice to list a condition for all patients.

He said the Greek financier entered the hospital under an assumed name, "Mr. Phillips," because he did not wish "to have any unnecessary publicity."

PARIS (AP) — Boxer George Foreman, who lost his world heavyweight crown last week to Muhammad Ali, says he is ready to fight Ali again "for nothing."

"I think that in Kinshasa the best athlete was beaten," said Foreman, speaking on a television show about the title bout in Zaire.

"I am prepared to meet Ali again and for nothing," he said. "I'll have no rest until I meet him again. Then I'll retire."

Foreman and Ali each earned $5 million for the fight. Ali has said he has no immediate future plans, but he disclosed after the fight he was offered $10 million to box Foreman or ex-champion Joe Frazier.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Comedian Jerry Lewis was ticketed by police after he stopped to view a traffic accident and set off a three-car crash in which two persons were slightly injured.

The Nevada State Highway Patrol said Lewis told officers after the Saturday mishap he stopped after recognizing someone involved in the original crash. Patrolmen said a vehicle driven by a 23-year-old woman then rammed Lewis' car from behind, bounced off and hit a third auto.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Shah of Iran will make a "friendly visit" to the Soviet Union later this month, according to the Soviet news agency Tass. The agency said Sunday that the shah was invited by the Presidium of the U.S.S.R. and the Soviet government.

Coat-sweater is versatile

By JUDY LOVE

What's the most versatile item in your wardrobe? I'm betting it's a coat sweater that looks super over all your tailored pants, jeans and skirts. Or it could be, if you knot up this week's bulky beauty.

Our collared coat-sweater is buttoned like a shirt, has the softly tailored look that polishes up all your classics. Two big hip pockets are handy hand-warmers and a sash belt ties it all together.

You'll choose the bulkiest toastyest yarn you can find, like Bucilla's machine washable knitting worsted. The sweater will take about 32 ounces. We like it in a woodsy green shade that's fashion-right anytime of year.

Instructions are available for knitting the sweater for sizes 8-10 and 12-14. For your copy of knitting directions, send 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, c/o Dixon Evening Telegraph, Radio City Station, Box 503, New York, New York 10019. Ask for leaflet No. 407 and be sure to enclose your name, address and zip code.

DEAR READERS: Many of you have written saying you sometimes can't find the brand of yarn suggested for a pattern. Yarn stores and department stores can special order yarn for you. If you haven't a yarn or department store near by, try a variety store. They may not have exactly the same yarn but will have something similar. But, it is absolutely essential you make a stitch gauge before starting your article, if you substitute yarn. (The fiber content may make a difference.) You know I believe a stitch gauge swatch always is essential for good, even work. Keep knitting, Judy Love.

BLOW AND GO

An indispensable aid to the girl on the go is the minidryer. These small hand dryers are perfect for today's blow-dry styles and now they're small enough to be taken along on weekend trips.

STURDY POUCH

Recycle the cut off leg portions of old jeans. Measure portions 10 inches or bigger, sew one end closed, gather the other end together with a length of rawhide and you have a sturdy pouch. Good for carrying tools, camping gear, kites, fishing poles, etc.

Attention! Prospective brides

Because of misunderstanding on wedding pictures, The Telegraph is asking prospective brides to arrange for good black-and-white wedding pictures for use with wedding stories.

Color photographs and black-and-white prints off a color negative are unsatisfactory for good newspaper reproduction.

Rather than be disappointed by having a picture rejected by the newspaper, we are advising brides to insist on a black-and-white picture shot with black-and-white film.

FAMILY LIB By JOANNE and LEW KOCH

Learning about the '30s the hard way

(Note: Today's column is written by Lew)

Like millions of other American families, the Kochs are slowly being forced to change their pattern of existence.

We have almost no clues as to why we have to change, but we do. Food has three, four, five price stickers pasted on it, each higher than the next. Bosses who are really decent and caring are still not able to give you a raise for the next 12 months—although the price of milk and meat has risen 12 times.

While we are being asked to build it ourselves, grow it ourselves and cheerfully pay more taxes, the oil industry solemnly notifies us that it will cost more this year to heat our homes while they continue to get their lucrative tax breaks.

I was at a party recently with a former professor of economics and I asked him, with more than a touch of bitterness in my voice, why all those brilliant economists couldn't come up with answers that work.

"They can," came the exprofessor's reply, "on the blackboard. Everything works out just fine when you theorize a perfectly competitive world. It's when those same blackboard answers are applied to the more complex, more monopolistic real world, that they don't work. Which is the reason I stopped being a professor of economics."

The very rich publicly proclaim that the smell in the air is the attar of prosperity, just around the corner. In the privacy of their homes, after the taking of brandy and cigars, they acknowledge a distinctly Thirties stench which brings them to talk of Swiss francs and gold bars.

Four years ago, Studs Terkel wrote a book called "Hard Times," an oral history of the Great Depression. Terkel notes that in 1930 Andrew Mellon, secretary of the Treasury, predicted that "... during the year, the country will make steady progress."

Harry Truman had something characteristically frank and salty to say about Mellon. Merle Miller's oral biography of Truman, "Plain Speaking," quotes Truman as saying that Mellon used his theories and policies and power "to make the rich richer and poor poorer. ... There just wasn't anybody in a position of power in Washington at that time who gave a good goddamn what happened to people."

Well-paid economic theoreticians and cabinet officers making 60 grand a year aren't worried about their mortgage payments or the cost of food on their table or their medical bills.

But I have a hunch if those policy-makers had to live on what the average American family is earning these days, the theories and policies would be a lot different.

To the rich, a recession may be depressing. For the rest of us a recession feels dangerously similar to a depression.

End play gives instant relief

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "South looks over dummy and counts eight top winners. The potential for a ninth trick is right there in each major suit and maybe a second club trick will develop. In any event, South lets West hold the first trick. West continues with the queen. East discards and since there is no point ducking again South wins the trick."

Jim: "South can run off five diamond tricks and decide what to do about the major suits next. That might be good tactics in duplicate bridge where overtricks are so important, but an alert South should find a sure way to make his game in rubber bridge."

Oswald: "It isn't too difficult. South just develops an early end play against West. All he has to do is to cash enough diamonds to exhaust West's holding in that suit and then throw West in with a club."

Jim: "West will be able to cash three more club tricks to give him a total of four, but then he will have to lead one of the major suits. Whichever one he leads will give South his ninth trick, game, rubber and a satisfied feeling."

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I really need help. Can anyone tell me how to remove the shine from a dark blue double-knit pleated skirt? I have tried everything I know and even sent the skirt to the cleaners but nothing helped.—LONA.

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with the placement of garters on garter pants and girdles. Why not put two in front, three or four inches apart? Everyone is not a contortionist. Who enjoys sitting on garters?—MRS. C.L.S.

DEAR READERS—Mrs. J. K. wanted to know how to clean a hand-carved chest brought back from the Orient. It was covered with linseed oil to keep it from cracking. She did not say how long the oil had been on her chest but one authority on antique furniture refinishing says that linseed oil can harden, particularly in the crevices of a handcarved piece, until it is like varnish. It needs to be removed with alcohol or paint remover. This is even more likely to be so if the oil was applied hot or warm as it then penetrates more. Mrs. J. K. would be wise to have a good furniture refinisher look at her piece before doing anything.—POLLY.

DEAR POLLY—An old standby of the antique trade is to clean a hand-carved piece such as Mrs. J. K. has with a mixture of one-third turpentine, raw linseed oil and vinegar. Shake the mixture often as these ingredients are not good mixers. Rub on in the cracks with an old toothbrush. Wipe with a clean rag and change rag as it becomes soiled.—JOHN.

DEAR POLLY—and Mrs. J. K.—Generally dried linseed oil can be removed by applying heated paint thinner or turpentine (heat carefully in a double boiler and avoid splashing liquid on burner) with a stiff brush. Several such treatments may be necessary.—J.C.B.

DEAR POLLY—I would like to pass on to Mrs. J. K. instructions given me by a dealer-authority on antiques from whom I have bought hand-carved Oriental chests. Teak, from which many are made, is grown in a steamy tropical rain forest and will crack if not given proper care. A weekly dusting with a long-bristled soft brush will keep it free from dust. Twice a year pour 1/4 cup lemon or linseed oil on the top and work it all over the surface with a two-inch paint brush. Let stand 24 hours or so until it soaks in, turn chest on its back and do front the same way, then the back and then the sides all on consecutive days. Wipe off excess oil with a soft cloth. This sounds like a lot of work but will keep the panels from shrinking or splitting. This is done only a couple of times a year and beautiful pieces are well worth this trouble. Do raw wood on the under side of a piece more often, perhaps every three months. I have had my furniture over 20 years and it is still beautiful.—MILANA.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY BOOM

Dear Ann

by Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's aunt lives with us. We have two children, 12 and 13 years of age. I should consider this a delicate problem but since Auntie doesn't, I'll go right ahead—the way she does. It's her loud belching. She can be heard all over the house.

At the dinner table it's really disgusting. She doesn't even say, "Pardon me." Our children have started to imitate her and now they are competing with one another to see who can belch the loudest. When I correct them they say, "Auntie does it."

Last week I decided to stop hinting. I came right out and told Auntie how my husband and I felt about her loud belching. She claims she can't help it, that it's the result of her hysterectomy. If this is true we will try to be more tolerant. Check it out, will you please?—Undone Katy

Dear Katy: Auntie's hysterectomy has nothing to do with her belching. If she believes she has a physical problem she ought to go to a doctor and find out what it is.

Regardless, the woman should attempt to lower the decibel rating of her belching, as a matter of courtesy.

As for your children, if you can't put an end to their crude behavior now, they are out of control and I feel sorry for you. The worst is yet to come.

Dear Ann Landers: The husband who signed himself "Hungry" was right on target. But he left a lot of territory uncovered.

Those immaculate housekeepers who expend all their energy polishing and waxing floors and starching the kitchen curtains until long after midnight aren't the only ones who are losing out. Add to the list the double-domed intellectual who reads literary classics, atomic energy manuals, books on economics and international relations. She ought to be smart enough to know that that ain't where it's at at 2 a.m.

I don't need a sexpot, either. Just a woman who knows what time it is. Sign my letter—Hungry II

Dear Hungry: Sometimes it helps if you buy her a nice watch. Thanks for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing in the hope that you can print this before my parents split. Here's the story:

Mom is the third in a family of five children. She was always the one who had to do all the dirty work. She was also the one who was least loved. Now that Grandma is very sick, Mom is the one who visits her every day in the hospital. She is also the one who goes to Grandpa's place and cooks and cleans and does his laundry.

These daily visits to the hospital and to Grandpa's infuriate my father. Grandma is practically a vegetable. She doesn't know anybody and it can't matter to her if Mom comes or not. Daddy just can't seem to get this through her head. He says she is proving by her actions that she cares more about her parents than she cares about her husband and children.

They argue about this all the time and I'm afraid of what might happen. Any advice?—B.K.S.

Dear B.K.S.: Your dad doesn't understand that your mother is still knocking herself out to get the approval of her parents—and she will do it as long as they live.

I hope your dad will see that this has nothing to do with him or your children. It's a highly neurotic pattern of behavior and not an uncommon one. Your mom feels that she MUST do this, and no one can change her mind.

Rochelle police officer finishes training

ROCHELLE—Russell Kelly of the Rochelle Police Department has recently finished a week-long course designed to prepare the officer, through practical driving situations, on how to handle pursuit driving. It includes vehicle stops of suspects and keeps him alert in the proper and safe driving of the police vehicle.

A track, equipped with an obstacle course, is used to sharpen the police officer's use of judgment and vehicle handling capability.

All Rochelle Police officers are required to complete this course as part of their training and development.

Extension Unit meets

OHIO—The members of Ohio Homemakers Extension unit welcomed Mrs. John McCabe as a new member recently, when they met with Ella Snodgrass.

Mrs. Ansel Mitchell presided in the absence of the president and presented "Be a Good Neighbor-Volunteer" for the special lesson. Members named their favorite food dish for fall as roll call.

Mrs. Melvin Grossman stated that the county organization will publish a cookbook for the bicentennial as she gave the major lesson on Bicentennial Foods. In connection with this, the group decided to have a dinner featuring old recipes for the Dec. 13 meeting, which will be with Mrs. Roland VonHoltzen.

November meetings will be in Princeton Tuesday at 1:30 and 7:30 p.m., with "Shaker Culture and Furniture" presented by University of Illinois specialists.

Viola Extensioners meet

COMPTON—The Viola Home Extension Unit held its October meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Cheeseman, Ash-ton. The 14 members answered roll call with "My First Teacher." The members welcomed two new members to the Extension, Mrs. Blanche Arnold and Mrs. Wayne McCray. Several of the members met at the home of Mrs. Ethyle Ackland to make nut cups for the Halloween party the Extension hosted at the Lee County Nursing Home.

Several of the members met at the Home Extension Building in Amboy to make corn husk dolls and they discussed having a float at the Compton Area Centennial Parade in 1975.

The minor lesson was given by Marilyn Book on "What is the Homemakers Extension Association." The major lesson was given by Marilyn Book and Viola Betz on "Helping the Elderly Face Changing Needs."

The next meeting date for the unit will be a district meeting Friday at 7:30 p.m., in the United Methodist Church at Scarboro. This is a joint meeting with the Wyoming and Willow Creek Unit. The major lesson will be given by the Home Extension advisors on arrangements for the holidays.

Annual bazaar, supper planned

AMBOY—Plans were made at a recent meeting for the annual bazaar and supper to be held in the United Methodist Church on Nov. 7.

The ham and turkey supper will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. Tickets, available from any of the committee chairmen and also at the door, will be $2.25 for adults and $1.25 for children under 12.

There will be a variety of handmade items and a grab bag for children.

Committees appointed are: Bazaar, Mrs. Hobart Adams, Mrs. George Tuttle, Mrs. Gertrude Tait; kitchen, Mrs. Robert Machen, Mrs. David Gross-man, Mrs. Michael Koppien; dining room, Mrs. Arnold Stahr, Mrs. Charles Jones, Mrs. Don Noble.

Noble Grands to elect officers

POLO—Election of new officers will be on the business agenda at the Wednesday meeting of the Past Noble Grands Club of the Marco Polo Rebekah Lodge.

The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. LeRoy Rebeck at 7:30 p.m. and Mrs. Pearl Buchanan will present the program.

4-H Club

discusses display

The Dixon Falcons 4-H Club discussed its window display for National 4-H Week at the recent 4-H club meeting.

Bennet Gamel, president, presided at the meeting and Ted Trulock took the roll call. Other reports were given by Tami Trulock and Hal Huffman.

Jim French reported on the Federation delegate's meeting and later Gamel gave a talk on beaver dams.

Charades were played and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

HAD ENOUGH OLD-STYLE POLITICS? SO HAS DUTCH SCOTT!

CAMPAIGN DISCLOSURE: Dutch Scott has revealed campaign receipts and expenditures from 1971 through October 5, 1974 and he continues to provide supplemental reports. All records are open on request.

PERSONAL INCOME DISCLOSURE: Dutch Scott has published his income in detail plus the amount of State and Federal income taxes paid in 1971, 1972, and 1973.

REAL ESTATE TAX REFORM: Dutch Scott has argued for moving away from the real estate tax as the primary source of funding for common schools and community colleges. He does so not only for equity for the elderly and the farmer but also to provide a stronger base of educational support. Local control of schools and protection for renters must be included in such reform.

SALES TAX REFORM: Dutch Scott believes that we should remove the tax on food and medicine as soon as possible. This is an extremely regressive tax.

COMMON SCHOOLS: Dutch Scott strongly supports full funding in 1974 and he strongly supported additional funding in 1972.

COMMUNITY COLLEGES: Dutch Scott supports providing at least 50% of community college budgets from the State. He urged override of the Ogilvie administration cut which reduced support from $19 to $15.5 per semester hour.

UNIVERSITIES: Dutch Scott has called for greater support for Northern Illinois University, including making DeKalb, not Chicago, the site of the proposed new law school. Moreover, he supported restoring the Ogilvie administration budget cuts.

SCHOLARSHIPS: Dutch Scott calls for continued provision of scholarships including the Illinois Veterans State Scholarship. In 1972 he urged an override of cuts in scholarship funds.

PUBLIC EMPLOYEE COMPENSATION: Dutch Scott believes we must stop asking public employees to support government services by accepting less than fair wages. Strong efforts must be made to recover purchasing power lost to inflation.

PUBLIC EMPLOYEE PENSIONS: Dutch Scott proposed in 1972 full funding of pensions and payment of the fund debts over a 20-year period, and he still supports this view. Studies show that this would save approximately $500 million for the State.

LOYALTY TO PRINCIPLES: Dutch Scott will stick to his principles even when it places him in conflict with party leadership. Thus he will fight for the passage of legislation he believes in, and the overriding of vetoes threatening such legislation. Examples: Full funding of pensions; Cost-of-living increases for public employees.

PUBLIC EMPLOYEE BARGAINING RIGHTS: Dutch Scott has consistently supported collective bargaining for public employees. He has voiced this support before all kinds of audiences.

EQUAL RIGHTS AMENDMENT: Dutch Scott will vote yes. He believes that equal financial opportunity is a basic human right.

FUTURE FELONS PROTECTION BILL: Dutch Scott believes that the Illinois law prohibiting pension payments to those who have abused their public trust is a part of the pension contract. Thus he would vote against granting pension payments for criminal disservice.

PUBLIC SERVICE: Dutch Scott believes that the people deserve a full-time Senator. He will meet with the people whenever the legislature is not in session, allowing them to contribute to their own government through advice, questions, criticism, or other comments. He wants to be the best legislator for all the people, not just for the lobbyists.

ATTITUDE TOWARD BIG BUSINESS: Dutch Scott believes that the interests of big business must come after those of the working-person, the family farmer, and the small businessman.

IT'S TIME FOR THE PEOPLE TO CONTROL THEIR OWN LEGISLATURE!

Rotary to meet

OREGON—Bob Isham has a tentative program for the Wednesday meeting of the Oregon Rotary Club at 12:15 p.m. in the VFW Club. He has not announced the subject of his program.

Bill Lanning presented his own program for last week's meeting. He is a native of Loves Park, where he attended school, after which he served in the U.S. Army and saw service in Korea. Lanning is the holder of the Purple Heart. Following dinner, Lanning took the members on a tour of the Atwood Plant.

Members are reminded of the Rotary Ann Night on Nov. 15, including a dinner and play sponsored by the Blackhawk Players in the Oregon Coliseum. Persons planning to attend should contact Howard Ashbaugh by Wednesday for reservations.

Russell Lamb will be program chairman for the Nov. 13 meeting.

Blackhawk CB Club meets

POLO—Ogle County Blackhawk CB Club met at the Byron Sportsman Club recently for its regular monthly meeting.

President Harold Thomas, Mt. Morris, reminded the members the next meeting would be election of new officers. He appointed Robert Belows and Jim Weaver, Polo, and Bob Wright, Leaf River, to the nomination committee.

The officers will be elected at the November meeting, instead of the usual December election, to allow more social time for the club's annual Christmas party.

The members are invited to attend the Thanksgiving supper Nov. 16 at Indian Village, Byron. Reservations should be made with the president or the secretary, Mrs. Robert Belows, Polo.

Refreshments were served by the October committee, comprised of Jerry Coullier, Rockford; Mrs. Jeniene Mullens, German Valley, and Mrs. Leslie Harmon, Forreston.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fuchs, Steward, received word they have a new grandson, born Oct. 24 and named Eric Paul. He is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. George Nielsen (the former Jan Fuchs) of Greendale, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Nielsen, Worth, are the paternal grandparents. Great-grandmother is Mrs. Perry Beitel, Steward.

'Brother Goose' play slated at Walnut

WALNUT—Nov. 15 at 8 p.m. in the Walnut High School auditorium, the Class of 1976 will present a comedy in three acts written by William Davidson, entitled "Brother Goose." The play, which has been billed as one of the most successful comedies ever written for the high school theatre, centers around 25-year-old Jeff Adams, who has been given the responsibility of taking charge of his orphaned brothers and sisters. Hence, Jeff has become a "Mother Goose" — er-uh — "Brother Goose." The lines, a grand array of parts, amusing situations and a great deal of clean high-spirited fun will make the comedy.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the junior class or at the door. All tickets are general admission only and are priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children not holding WHS activity cards.

The cast, under the direction of Robert Wilson, includes David Smith as Jeff Adams, Kathy Johnson as Carol Adams, Chuck Bell as Wes Adams, Ronny Matthews as Hyacinth Adams, Kathy Miller as Peggy Winkel, Judy Adams as Lenore Hudson, Sherry Fietz as Eve Mason, Lynn Manak as Mrs. Trimmer, Mary Rhodes as Mrs. Lumpkins, Susan Schlumpf as Alice, Connie Gibson as Mrs. Mason, and Doug Parker as the truck driver.

Halloween winners named

OREGON—Becky Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carpenter, champion costume winner at the annual Halloween party was dressed as a mushroom. The party was sponsored by the Knights of Columbus and held in the Oregon Coliseum Thursday night.

The evening opened with invocation by the Rev. R. James Reid, pastor of the United Methodist Church and Mrs. Jonas Martin played background music as the contestants passed in front of the judges' stand. The singing of the Star Spangled Banner started the contestants' march and the judges were Oregon Mayor Chrissie Myers, Mrs. Ilene Dubey and Mrs. Jane Koseler, art-instructors at the Oregon schools.

The children were divided into three categories: pre-school, kindergarten and first grade; second, third and fourth grades; and fifth grade and up.

The winners in the first category were Andrea Manis, fist; Ralph Carpenter, second; Jimmy and Kathy Lauer, as ghosts, were third; Zachary Martin, as a red devil, was fourth.

Pat Huston, as a stop-and-go light, was first in the second category; Curtis Martin, as a mummy, was second; Chris Kneedler, as a pumpkin was third; and Wendy Schultz, as Uncle Sam, was fourth.

In the third category Becky Johnson, as a mushroom, was first; Kim Manis, as a table with Halloween decorations, was second; Kevin Collins, as a spaceman, third; and Mike Mason, as a farmer, was fourth.

Paul Kaczmarzyk served as master of ceremonies for the evening.

ASK THOSE WHO KNOW HIM BEST...

"Don will provide a strong voice for us in rural Illinois, if elected to the General Assembly." - Wilson King, Vice President, Rural Co-alition of America, Rock Falls, Ill.

"Don has demonstrated his ability and knowledge of local government finances and fiscal affairs during his time on the County Board Finance Committee. He knows the value of a buck." - Charles Dunphy, former chairman, Lee County Board.

"Don has been a strong advocate of local government and has consistently opposed the encroachment of the State and Washington into our local affairs." - Warren E. Walder, Mayor, City of Dixon.

"When it comes to the ordinary working man and woman, we'll have someone who can represent us in Springfield in Don Burke." - John Farney, President, United Steelworkers local.

"A freshman member like Burke who does his homework well may impress more veteran members..." - Robert H. Nellis, Editor, Dixon Evening Telegraph.

"Burke... Looks like a candidate who can be a doer and shaker in Springfield." Endorsement by Rockford Morning Star.

Local 172 feels that Don Burke's stand on mental health issues, collective bargaining legislation, and disclosure of campaign funds, is in the best interests of all the public employees in the 37th District.

Endorsed by: AFL-CIO, United Steel Workers. Single candidate endorsed by HFSCME 172 and AFSCME 963, Chicago Tribune, Peoria Journal Star, Rockford Morning Star, Northern Star.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

This is what Don said before he decided to run:

"There is no point in being elected to public office if you can't be your own man. If I run, it will be with no strings attached. I will accept no campaign contributions from any groups or organizations. Nov. 21, 1973

- NO DONATIONS FROM SPECIAL INTEREST GROUPS. HE ACCEPTED NONE.
- THE NAME OF EVERY DONOR, FROM A PENNY UP, WOULD BE MADE PUBLIC. HE LISTED THE NAME OF EVERY DONOR. HE DID IT EVEN BEFORE THE PRIMARY ELECTION, WHEN STATE LAW DID NOT REQUIRE IT. HIS DISCLOSURE GOES FAR BEYOND THAT REQUIRED BY LAW.
- A FULL AUDIT OF EVERY CAMPAIGN RECEIPT AND DISBURSEMENT WAS MADE AND PUBLISHED. THE ACCOUNTING FIRM OF HAMILTON AND BLAINE WAS ENLISTED TO MAKE THE AUDIT.

The only question we face now, is can a campaign run so independent and free of obligation, elect a candidate. If it works I could be the freest and most independent legislator ever to enter the legislative chambers in Springfield.

Dixonite attends Humane Society meeting

A leader of local animal welfare activities recently returned from the 1974 Annual Conference of The Humane Society of the United States held in the Chicago suburb of Oak Brook.

Joyce Pfister, Dixon, a member of the Sauk Valley Humane Society, participated in meetings on the treatment of animals in the filming of movies, the humane treatment of livestock, how to control the surplus cat and dog population, and several other animal welfare topics.

A highlight of the three-day conference was a discussion between Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America, and representatives of The Humane Society about the treatment of animals in motion pictures. The Humane Society has criticized the movie industry for abandoning all attempts to safeguard the welfare of animals during the filming of movie and TV films. Valenti told conferees that the old movie code that used to protect animals no longer exists and that he is optimistic that producers will voluntarily protect animals.

Mrs. Marion Archer hosts Legion Auxiliary

COMPTON— The Brooklyn Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary met for its October meeting at the home of Marion Archer, with Mrs. Georgia Knauer serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. Archer was acting president. It was reported that there are 35 paid members. It was later agreed to give $45 to the seven-point program.

Mrs. Knauer volunteered to make the tray favors for November and December. The silverware and coffee pot will be available at the November meeting for any member to purchase.

The next meeting is Nov. 18 at the home of Mrs. June Zinke, with Mrs. Verna Aughenbaugh as co-hostess. Mrs. Alice Weitzel will be acting president.

Four Dixon gridders named all-conference

Bob Pinegar, Mike LeBlanc, Mike James and Doug Devine of Dixon have been selected to the NCIC All-Conference Northeast Division first team for their performances during the past football season.

The first team was comprised of 28 individuals. Eight players from division champion Sterling were on the squad, with La Salle-Peru landing seven members on the first team. Kewanee was represented by four players, while Ottawa had three and Streator two.

A total of 23 of the first team are seniors. Four, including LeBlanc and Devine, are juniors while sophomore fullback Rod Anderson rounds out the squad. Other juniors are quarterback Brian Crowley from Ottawa and end Mike Davis from Sterling.

Following is a list of the 1974 team by school:
DIXON — tackle Bob Pinegar, halfback Mike LeBlanc, fullback Mike James and line-backer Doug Devine.

KEWANEE — guard Larry Ryan, end Steve Nosalik, halfback Al Hart and quarterback Rich Barnes.

LA SALLE-PERU — center Dave Vesogni, guard Glenn Gandolfi, tackle John Fletcher, end Bill Torchia, quarterback Steve Breje, halfback Dennis Patterson and quarter-back Steve Opsal.

OTTAWA — tackle Mark Pleskovitch, end Sam Murray and quarterback Brian Crowley. STERLING — center Chuck Musgrove, guard Jason Anderson, tackle Jack Clemens, end Doug Renkes, quarterback Mike Wietlispach, halfback Gary Skrogstad, fullback Rod Anderson and end Mike Davis.

STREATOR — guard Jim Lucas and half-back Mike Brios. Special mention was given to Ron Murray, Marty Fordham and Ned Vail of the Dukes; Rudy Vasquel of Kewanee; Ken Houtt, Jay Pistano and Dave Rucinski of L-P; Tom Cassidy, Bob Hardee and Steve Hershey of Ottawa; Dan McMillin, Greg Brown and Terry Powers of Sterling; plus Pete Benning, Ed Nink, Jack Stephens and Ron Yeck of Streator.

Dixon honorable mentions were Mark Appleman, Bernie Castillo, Reece Ashford, Steve Moore, Bill Bryan, Chuck Murphy and Jan Blackburn.

Rochelle landed five players on the Southwest Division first team. They were guard Mark Rossi, halfback Joel Richards, Fullback Art Erickson, plus defensive specialists Gonzalo Valdivieso and Tom Walker.

John Babb was special mention, with Rod Kepner, Steve Plumley and Todd Smith on the honorable mention list.

Accused as knife puller
ROCHELLE — David Rice, 17, 826½ N. Sixth St., was arrested Sunday and charged with aggravated assault.

Rice was arrested after he was identified by Clarence Brewer, DeKalb, as the man who threatened Brewer with a knife. Brewer told Rochelle Police he had been talking to Rice when he became angry and pulled a knife on him.

Rice was being held in the Rochelle jail pending the setting of bond.

Health unit to meet
The next meeting of the Lee County Health Planning Committee will be Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m. at the KSB Hospital.

Kiwanians to hear banker
MT. MORRIS — The Kiwanis Club will meet Tuesday 11:30 a.m. in the Legion Hall.

Guest speaker will be George Aderton, president of Citizens State Bank who will discuss the pros and cons of banking as a financial investment.

Arrested by troopers
OREGON — Duane L. Johnson, 20, Mt. Morris was arrested Saturday by State Police on charges of operating a motor vehicle intoxicated and illegal transportation of liquor. Johnson was released on bond. Further details were unavailable.

Sentenced to probation
Jacob Dixon, 20, found guilty of aggravated battery, was sentenced today to three years' probation, the first 11 months to be served in Lee County jail. Dixon, 1312 W. Ninth St., was sentenced by Circuit Judge John Rapp Jr.

Dixon was additionally fined $600 on the charge, by Judge Rapp. The charge stemmed from an outbreak in the second floor hallway at the Lee County Courthouse. Several Dixon Police officers, in the building on another matter, were forced to subdue Dixon following outbursts of obscenities.

The battery charge came about when Dixon reportedly bit Officer Michael Wildsor in the arm while struggling on the floor.

State's Atty. Patrick Ward, who said he was satisfied with the sentence, had recommended a penitentiary term for the youth.

Amboy driver given ticket
AMBOY — An Amboy motorist was ticketed Saturday, following a two-car crash here. Investigating Lee County Sheriff's Deputies said a car driven east on Park Street by Hazel Mickelson, 55, Amboy, collided on Davis Street with a north-bound car driven by Lois H. Clayton, 66, Amboy.

The Mickelson woman was cited for failure to yield.

Driver faces license charge
Richard A. Engel, 20, Rock Falls, was charged with driving after revocation of his license, Saturday, by patrolling Lee County Sheriff's Deputies. Engel was stopped on U.S. 52 near the East-West Tollway. He was released on bond and scheduled to appear in court Nov. 28.

Check charges
R. Gene Selover, 33, Amboy, was arrested over the weekend by Lee County Sheriff's Deputies on a warrant charging him with deceptive practice. Selover was released on bond and scheduled to appear in court Nov. 28.

Honored as 4-H Alumni were Charles Meurer, Mrs. Charles Meurer, Mrs. Linda Cheese- man, and Mrs. Marilyn Trulock.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meurer, Rt. 1, Ashton, received recognition for their part in the 4-H International Program. The Meurer's hosted a professional youth worker from Swaziland last summer.

Implement, Lee F.S. Inc., Amboy, The Ashton Bank & Trust Co., The Franklin Grove Bank, and The First National Bank, Amboy, were given certificates of recognition.

4-H Clubs presented awards included Hamilton Hustlers, Petunia City, South Dixon Willing Workers, Marion Busy Bees, Gold Star, and Bits and Spurs for 1974 Honor Clubs; Kum-Joyn-Us and Petunia City for Club Health Award; Hamilton Hustlers and Marion Busy Bees for Club Safety Award; Sub-let Indians, Willow Creek Hard-to-Beat, and South Dixon Willing Workers for County Softball Champions; and Palmyra Pixies and Petunia City for People-To-People Activity.

Part of the Achievement Night activities included installation of the 1975 4-H Federation officers—Cheri Swanson, president; Donna Faber, vice president; Julie Leffelman and Mar- nie Robbins, secretaries; Ann Kessel, treasurer; Bennett Gamel, reporter; Carol Harden and Chris Somers, recreation chairmen; and Marty Leffelman and Ed Klein, parliamentarians.

Five 4-H members who attended the National Citizenship Shortcourse in Washington, D.C., presented an illustrated report of the trip.

Miss Melanie Guither was named 1974 4-H Congress delegate and outstanding 4-H'er of the year at achievement night program held at the 4-H Center Saturday night. Howard Lemmon, right, presented the Outstanding 4-H Award to her. (Telegraph Photos)

Matilda Noth, India, was one of the guest speakers at the recent United Nations Week at Steward Elementary School. (Telegraph Photo)

Steward school observes U.N. week

By MRS. DOUG BERG STEWARD—Steward Elementary School has been very busy celebrating United Nations Week (UN) and Halloween the last two weeks.

United Nations was celebrated the first week in many different ways, including speakers from foreign lands and films enjoyed by all the students, faculty members and some parents. Each class participated in one way or another.

On Oct. 24 the birthday of the UN, Matilda Noth, a native of India, visited the students. Miss Noth explained India's customs, dress and answered questions from the students related to India. She also brought many beautiful saris and jewelry and demonstrated how they wrap and fold the saris.

Miss Noth is presently working on her doctorate degree in education at Northern Illinois University. After completing her degree she will return to India.

Also speaking was Mrs. Wallace Peterson of Rochelle, on Friday. Slides were shown of the Philippines, where she is originally from, and questions from the students were answered.

Mrs. Peterson came to this country in 1970. She met Mr. Peterson as a member of the Peace Corps.

The kindergarten class, under the supervision of Mrs. Bob Eckhardt, learned "Are You Sleeping," in French. They also discussed the UNICEF program and children from other countries.

The first graders and their teacher, Mrs. Stanley Hagen, sang "Happy Birthday" to the UN on Thursday and gave them three wishes: happiness, peace and money.

They also brought money for UNICEF and made a bulletin board of "children from other lands," dressed in their native costumes.

The second graders and their teachers, Ms. Kathy Bradley and Mrs. Terry Dickow, participated in singing songs from different lands.

The third, fourth and fifth grades worked together, along with their teachers, Mrs. Dan Graber, Mrs. Everette Cooley and Miss Mary Kay Daniel. They baked cookies Monday through Thursday. On Monday they baked Mexican wedding cake; Tuesday, Chinese Chews; Wednesday, Czechoslovakian Bar Cookies; and Thursday, Mrs. Ray Hovis, Rochelle, was there to show the students how to make Norwegian Krum-Kage, which is cookies made with whipping cream, baked in a KrumKage iron on top of the stove, and then rolled on a wooden stick.

Mrs. Hovis also showed slides from their trip to Norway taken in August, visiting the place her grandparents came from. They also went fishing in the North Sea.

Third graders of the language arts class drew and colored flags of countries of their choice, and then wrote stories about the countries.

Sixth grade students and their teacher, Greg Wills, in addition to hearing the speakers and seeing the films, also gave a party for Pam Byrd on Friday. Pam is moving to Wisconsin. David Shelow made a card which was signed by all her classmates. The refreshments were furnished by the students.

The seventh grade and their teacher, Mrs. Delbert Ideler, helped celebrate UN week by contributing items for the display table, which included items from all over the world. Cindy Ackland brought several dolls dressed in native costumes.

The eighth graders and their teacher, Ron Ellis, discussed the countries of Central and South American and their geographic position in the world.

Progress reports on Amboy referendum

AMBOY—Progress reports by selected committee members on the promotion of the $1.3 million bond issue referendum were heard at a meeting held in the junior high school.

The neighborhood and publicity committee chairmen reported that teams of volunteer workers have been organized in each area served by the unit school district to personally contact every family.

The publicity committee reported that 2000 brochures have been printed and will be distributed by the visitation committee. The brochures will also be placed in public places.

There was a review of material to be distributed by the visitation committee and on the report cards which will be filed with the school office by Nov. 15.

Nov. 6 was designated as the kickoff date for the election promotion to begin and an open house has been arranged at the school for each evening from Nov. 7 through Nov. 15.

All volunteer workers and committee members will attend a meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, when instructions will be given and materials to be used will be distributed.

Mt. Morris fire is being probed

MT. MORRIS—The cause of a fire at Kable Printing Company Saturday is still under investigation by Mt. Morris fire officials.

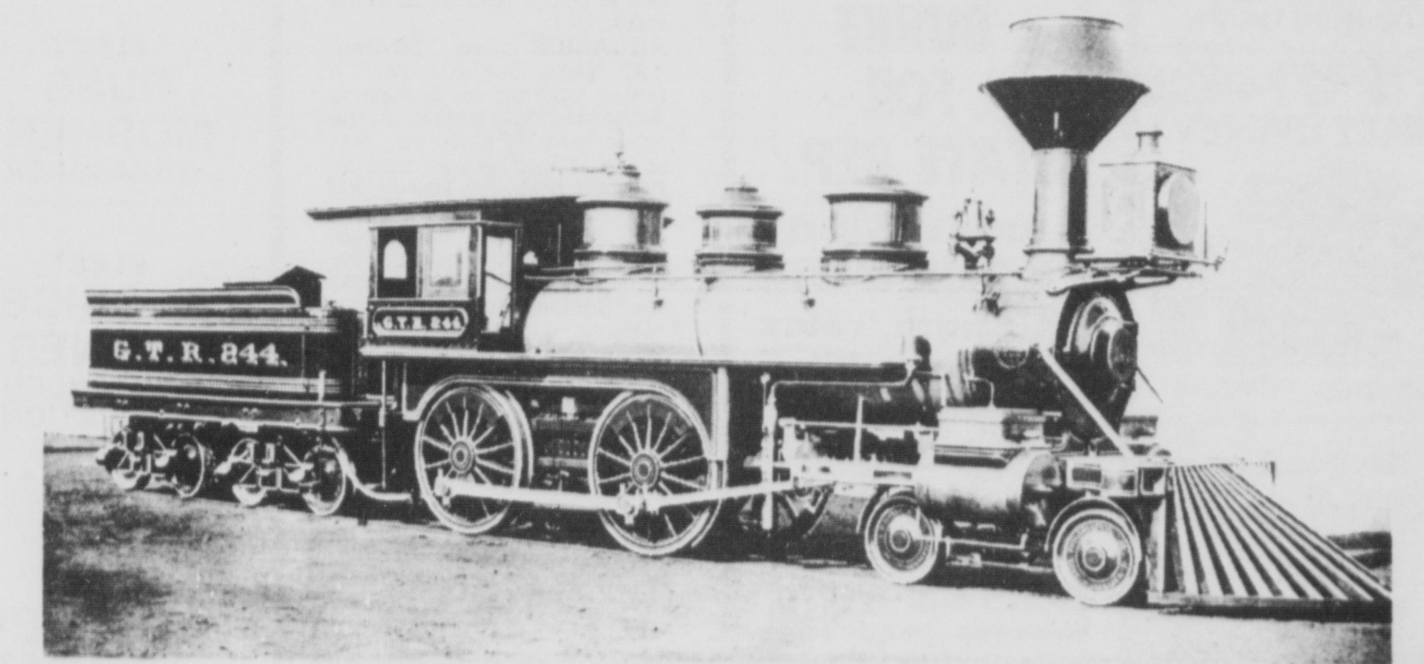

Fire broke out at 6:30 p.m. in the roll stock area and the estimated damage by the blaze is still undetermined.

Water damage is extensive.

Top teams keep rolling

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

The time for college football comparisons is here.

Is Ohio State better than Oklahoma? Is Michigan better than Ohio State? Is Alabama better than all of them?

Texas, ranked 12th, is "a lot better" offensively than top-rated Ohio State, Coach Dave Smith of Southern Methodist said Saturday after his club bowed to the Longhorns 35-15. Five weeks earlier, SMU lost to Ohio State 28-9.

Alabama is "better than Florida," Mississippi State's Bob Tyler said after his 17th-ranked team absorbed a 35-0 licking at the hands of the fourth-ranked Crimson Tide. State's only other setback was a 29-13 loss to Florida, also five weeks ago. Saturday, No. 11 Florida ended fifth-ranked Auburn's unbeaten season 25-14.

"I don't see a heckuva lot of difference between their defenses; they're both fine," Colorado's Bill Mallory said in comparing ninth-ranked Nebraska and No. 2-rated Oklahoma. Nebraska throttled Colorado 35-15 Saturday while Oklahoma trampled the Buffs 49-14 two weeks ago.

Throwing comparisons — and another opponent — to the winds, Ohio State did nothing to diminish its No. 1 standing. Archie Griffin set an all-time record by rushing for more than 100 yards for the 18th consecutive regular-season game and the Buckeyes trounced Illinois 49-7, making Woody Hayes one of the few coaches to reach 200 victories.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma whipped Iowa State 28-10 — it was 28-0 until the final two minutes — and No. 3 Michigan struggled past Indiana 21-7.

Southern California, rated sixth, had to come from behind to tie California 15-15 but the rest of The Associated Press Top Ten all prevailed.

Seventh-ranked Notre Dame rallied for a pair of fourth-period touchdowns and shaded Navy 14-6. No. 8 Texas A&M tripped Arkansas 20-10 and 10th-ranked Penn State edged No. 15 Maryland 24-17.

Besides Florida and Texas, 16th-ranked Miami of Ohio was the only other member of the Second Ten to win. The Redskins clobbered Western Michigan 31-0.

But Rice toppled No. 13 Texas Tech 21-7. Texas-El Paso stunned No. 14 Arizona State 31-27. Washington bombed No. 18 UCLA 31-9 and Cincinnati nipped No. 19 Temple 22-20. San Diego State and Wisconsin, tied for 20th, both lost, the former to North Texas State 14-9 and the latter to Michigan State 28-21.

Ohio State's Griffin rushed for 144 yards and two touchdowns, and Cornelius Greene ran for 127 yards and one touchdown and passed for another 127 and two scores.

Oklahoma maintained its half-game lead in the Big Eight over Nebraska and Missouri — a 52-15 winner over Kansas State — as Elvis Peacock and Grant Burget ran for touchdowns and Steve Davis passed to Joe Washington and Tinker Owens for two more. The Sooners, though, were held to 198 rushing yards, by far their lowest of the year.

Michigan's Gordon Bell came off the bench and rushed for 159 yards and two second-period touchdowns as the Wolverines remained tied with Ohio State atop the Big Ten.

Five Alabama players — Robert Fraley, Calvin Culliver, Richard Todd, Randy Billingsley and Ray Sewell — scored on short runs against Mississippi State as the Crimson Tide opened a one-game bulge over Florida and Georgia in the Southeastern Conference race.

Florida chewed up Auburn's vaunted defense for 324 yards on the ground, with Jimmy DuBose smashing inside for 143 and Tony Green running wide for 78.

Southern Cal trailed California 12-0 before starting its comeback. The Trojans caught up in the third period when Pat Haden sneaked across from a yard out and then flipped a two-point conversion pass to Jim Obradovich.

Notre Dame trailed Navy 6-0 until the final period, when Tom Clements tossed a five-yard pass to Pete Demmerle and Randy Harrison raced 40 yards with an interception.

Texas A&M's entire backfield was on the sidelines with injuries at one point so sub fullback Jerry Honore took over and scored twice against Arkansas, once on a 60-yard gallop.

Nebraska's Dave Humm threw two scoring passes against Colorado while freshman Monte Anthony rushed for 157 yards and John O'Leary tallied twice.

Jeff Hite, benched earlier in the season, raced 79 yards with an intercepted pass against Maryland and scored again on a 21-yard dash after he stole a lateral on a kickoff return.

Texas' Marty Atkins led the Longhorns past SMU by firing his first touchdown pass of the season and scoring once himself. The perennial champs remained one game behind Texas A&M in the Southwest Conference scramble.

Tommy Kramer scored one touchdown and passed for another as Rice upset Texas Tech for its first triumph.

Confirmation of Rockefeller is predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House aide Donald Rumsfeld says Congress should confirm Nelson A. Rockefeller's nomination as vice president as soon as it returns from the election recess.

Rumsfeld, the top aide to President Ford, said Sunday that it would be "unconscionable" if the nomination is not acted on before the end of the year.

Interviewed on the CBS program "Face the Nation," Rumsfeld said he was optimistic about the Congress that would be returned in Tuesday's elections. But, he refused to be pinned down on whether Ford's cross-country campaigning had swung any votes to the Republican side.

"I'm not in a position to make estimates," he said. "I think the answer will come election day. It's important that human beings across the country participate and, if his appearances across the country stimulated interest, they were a success."

He also said the work of the government continued "in an orderly and disciplined way" while Ford was out campaigning.

Brewers association in Chicago dissolves

CHICAGO (AP) — The city of beer barons and beer wars has gone so flat that the Chicago District of the Master Brewers Association has dissolved.

Wally Bjarnarson, the last district president, said 21 members of the association voted unanimously to drain the last professional stein Friday night.

The reason, he said, is that the association didn't want to become just a social group. Its members wanted to trade technical information and with only one brewery in town, that became difficult.

Bjarnarson said Chicago, which boasted 52 breweries when the end of Prohibition made boast possible, has declined to one, the Peter Hand Brewery, which makes a beer called Old Chicago.

Bjarnarson himself is plant manager of the Falstaff malt division, one of three malthouses in town.

Now, Bjarnarson said, brewers who want to keep up will probably go to either Milwaukee or St. Louis to learn the latest ways to make corn, rice, barley, malt and hops.

Bjarnarson said that popular images of Germanic-looking craftsmen in lederhosen aside, beer-making is a modern business with modern technology.

At their meeting, the Chicago brewers were more likely to be discussing "The Sanitary Approach To Brewing," than making personal taste tests.

Not that beer wasn't served at the meetings, Bjarnarson said.

THANK YOU!

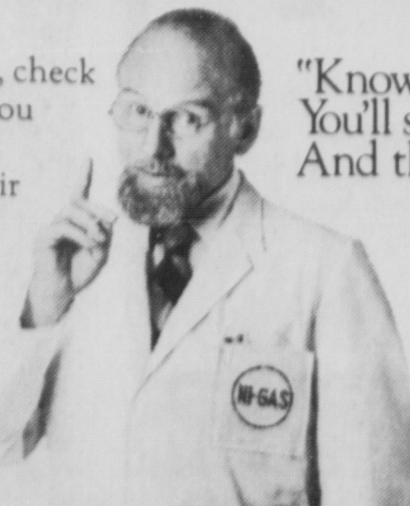

Dr. No-No's helpful hints on how to save natural gas & money:

"Ah! Here's a beautiful no-no, friends. Obstructing a register like this means you don't get enough circulation in this room. And you get too much air flow in other rooms. And that wastes gas and money. Tch, tch, tch."

If you have a room that's hard to heat, check to see if a register is blocked before you turn up the thermostat. Blocking air outlets or inlets can throw a forced air system out of balance, reducing its efficiency. Keep those vents clear. You'll help keep gas supplies up, and your gas bill down.

"Know your no-nos, friends. You'll save gas and money. And that's a yes-yes."

Cowboys ambush the Cardinals

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals are no longer riding high in the National Football League after running into a Cowboy ambush. Effren Herrera delivered the killing shot in the Dallas stronghold Sunday.

"It's nice to win one like that after losing other games on field goals," Dallas Coach Tom Landry said after his straight-shooting Cowboys handed the Cardinals their first defeat of the year, 17-14 on Herrera's 20-yard field goal with four seconds left.

Before Sunday, the Cardinals had won seven straight games for a big lead in the National Conference East Division. Now, their lead is down to two games over the Washington Redskins, and more significantly, they've proved that they are not such tough birds after all.

In another of Sunday's top games, the Buffalo Bills beat the New England Patriots in a 29-28 thriller to decide the leader in the American Conference East.

Elsewhere, the division leaders in action all won. The Pittsburgh Steelers, leaders in the AFC Central, hammered the Philadelphia Eagles 27-0; the Oakland Raiders, first in the AFC Western, beat the Denver Broncos 28-17; and the Minnesota Vikings, atop the NFC Central, walloped the Chicago Bears 17-0.

In the other games, the Miami Dolphins ripped the Atlanta Falcons 42-7; the Redskins tripped the Green Bay Packers 17-6; the Cincinnati Bengals turned back the Baltimore Colts 24-14; the Houston Oilers trimmed the New York

Jets 27-2; the Detroit Lions nudged the New Orleans Saints 19-14; the San Diego Chargers nipped the Cleveland Browns 36-35 and the New York Giants surprised the Kansas City Chiefs 33-27.

Los Angeles, the NFC Western leader, plays San Francisco Monday night.

Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach drove the Cowboys 71 yards in the final five minutes of their game with St. Louis. The Cardinals aided the drive with three costly penalties. Staubach connected on a 15-yard pass to Golden Richards with 30 seconds to play and St. Louis was flagged for roughing the passer to put Dallas on the Cardinal five. Staubach sneaked one yard and Dallas let the clock run down before Herrera, a former collegiate star at UCLA who was signed as a free agent three games ago, calmly kicked the winning field goal to send the Texas Stadium crowd of 64,146 into delirium.

St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart completed touchdown passes of 19 yards to Jackie Smith and 10 yards to Mel Gray — the latter giving the Cardinals a 14-7 lead in the third period.

Bills 29, Patriots 28
Linebacker Dave Washington ran 72 yards with a pass interception for a touchdown, then blocked a field goal attempt with 50 seconds remaining to help Buffalo win a spine-tingling game from New England. The victory boosted the Bills into sole possession of first place in the AFC East with a 7-1 record. New England, 6-2, fell one game behind into a second-place tie with Miami.

Washington picked off a pass by New England quarterback Jim Plunkett and sprinted down the sideline to put Buffalo in front midway through the third period.

However, the Patriots, who lost a 30-28 decision to the Bills in Buffalo two weeks ago, charged back as Mark Herron capped a 51-yard drive with a short touchdown run later in the period. John Smith kicked the conversion, putting New England in front 28-26. Led by quarterback Joe Ferguson, the Bills moved downfield to set up John Leybold's winning field goal from the 47-yard line with five seconds gone in the fourth period.

Steelers 27, Eagles 0
Pittsburgh's defense allowed only three drives beyond the 50-yard line and Mel Blount delivered the knockout blow with a 52-yard interception for a touchdown as the Steelers crushed Philadelphia.

Raiders 28, Broncos 17
Ken Stabler threw four touchdown passes, two each to Cliff Branch and Fred Biletnikoff, to lead Oakland past Denver. The Raiders sprinted to a 21-7 lead in the first half and held off the rallying Broncos after intermission.

Vikings 17, Bears 0
Fran Tarkenton threw two second-half touchdown passes, leading Minnesota to an easy victory over mistake-prone Chicago. The Vikings' victory snapped a two-game losing streak.

Dolphins 42, Falcons 7
Don Nottingham scored three touchdowns to lead Miami over Atlanta. Miami quarterback Bob Griese completed 10 of 15 passes for 152 yards and two touchdowns.

Redskins 17, Packers 6
Washington beat Green Bay behind Billy Kilmer's short passes and a rugged Redskins defense that closed down the Packers' running game.

Bengals 24, Colts 14
Ken Anderson passed for three touchdowns, the last one with 90 seconds remaining, to lead Cincinnati over Baltimore.

Oilers 27, Jets 22
Dan Pastorini threw a 51-yard pass to Ken Burrough to set up Willie Rodgers' winning touchdown run with 1:56 to play in Houston's victory over the New York's Jets.

Lions 19, Saints 14
Levi Johnson returned a squibbed field goal attempt 78 yards for a second-quarter touchdown and Detroit survived a New Orleans' rally to take a rain-soaked victory over the Saints.

Chargers 36, Browns 35
Ray Wersching kicked a 40-yard field goal with 55 seconds remaining as San Diego, led by the four-touchdown, 333-yard passing of Dan Fouts, beat Cleveland.

Giants 33, Chiefs 27
Craig Morton uncorked a 51-yard touchdown pass to Joe Dawkins with 4:13 left in the game to give the New York Giants a close victory over Kansas City. The Chiefs had the ball inside the Giants' one-yard line when the game ended after

DRIVE A BARGAIN

There's none better than an OK Chevy Used Car. We put the OK symbol on cars that we have thoroughly inspected and reconditioned, if necessary, to assure you lots of miles for your dollar and a car that almost seems like new.

That way we won't expect to see you back again until you need another one (but you can honk as you drive by).

VOTE NOVEMBER 5

Lee County is one of three Illinois counties where the Video Voter is being installed for use in the November 5 election. The new voting machine electronically records the voter's choice and then transmits it to a Data Center where the totals are accumulated. In order for you to become acquainted with the machine prior to election day, demonstration equipment is on display for your use at the Lee County Court House and other designated places throughout the county.

GO TO THE POLLS! YOUR VOTE could make the difference.

- The 1960 Presidential election was decided by a margin of less than one vote per precinct.
- An Illinois State Representative was elected in 1968 by a margin of 41 votes — less than ¼ vote per precinct.

WHAT DOES YOUR VOTE DO? The people you elect on November 5:

- Help set property taxes.
- Are responsible for local law enforcement.
- Preside over some of our courts.
- Determine how much state income tax is returned to local government.
- May write regulations for using farm chemicals.
- Decide what kind of road system Illinois will have.
- Set the policy for running the University of Illinois.
- Determine what kind of farm program we have.
- May write rules for handling farm labor disputes.
- Determine the directions of the Federal Government.

All voters in the following precincts will be using the Video Voter:

Amboy — All precincts
Ashton — All precincts
China — Precincts one and two
Dixon — Precincts 3,4,5; 6,7; 8,18; 9,10; 11,12,15; and 14,16
Palmyra — Precincts one and two Wyoming — Precincts one and two

If you are in one of the trial precincts, don't let this new method discourage you from voting. The Video Voter is a fast and simple way to record your vote.

If you don't elect the people you want to make decisions... someone else will elect who he wants! GET OUT AND VOTE NOVEMBER 5.
